Our clients wanted a spacious master bath. The final design combined several small rooms, and bumped out an exterior wall creating a nook for three casement windows and a tub ledge. The jetted tub is nicely framed in with granite tile, an arched opening and tapered Doric columns. Arched-top French doors lead into the new spacious bathroom with plenty of natural light from the new arched windows. The large walk-in shower features an angled bench, two wall niches, double fixtures on opposing walls and the floor-to-ceiling tile is accented by a band of granite that matches the tub deck and vanities.
